A Pathetic Scene at the Death-bed -A Man who is Universally Mourned. The Speech that Made Him Famous-Grady's Career.

ATLANTA, GA., Dec. 23 .- Henry W. Grady is dead. Death came at 3:40 this morning. Its coming had been feared who had watched the case sely, but nobody expected it so soon. The scenes at his home during the last hours were most pathetic. It was shortly after 11 o'clock that Dr. Everett annonneed that Mr. Grady was sinking rapidly, and that the end was near. Then t was that all the members of the famad relations gathered about the sick hat the cup might be taken from them. nds who had, at the doctor's sugges friends who has, a the doors a suggestion, left a few hours previously, were assitly summoned. The building is being constructed Advices received from Washington are to the effect that Senators Barbonr and Daniels, of Virginia, are keeping up the fight against the assignment of Lieusenant Braunersrenther, or any other naval officer, to the Linsiy Institute in this city. They have entered a written protest and are bringing all the influence. and picturesque appearance when completed. The interior is going to be something superb, judging from to be something superb, judging from the sketches at hand. The reception hall is a magnificent room finished in native woods, which are used for finish-ings throughout the house. There is a vast fireplace with a big old-fashioned settle in front of it; the windows sre of stained Cathedral glass and about the room stand monster candelabra. The dining room recalls those pictured in baronial times and about the massive sketch showing the main staircase and and another showing the library freplace. Both are beautiful, and with the ideas embraced in these four sketches carried out throughout the building it will be the most beautiful and complete dwelling in the State. When one realizes that less than ten years ago the country this magnificent mansion is to grace was a howling wilderness, some little idea can be had of the wonderful development that is now going on in this State. The West Virginia Central road has penetrated to the heart of this rich wilderness and it its almost certain that those who come

A Mysterious Afmir.

About 9 o'clock Snuday evening an uaknown man called on Dr. Brannen to have his hand, which was badly gashed across the inside, sewed up and dressed. Two fingers were almost cut off, and he may be crippled for life. The victim positively refused to give his name, but stated that another man had drawn an open knife on him, which he had grabbled. The person holding the knife pulled it through his hand cutting it horribly. y issued by Secretary of State Walker placed on record in Clerk Hook's offic yesterday. The incorporators are John W. Ailes, of Roscoe, Washington county, Pa; T. J. Woods, of Woods Run, Washington county, Pa; C. L. Snowden, of Brownsville, Fayette county, Pa, and John Moren and W. G. Cotton, two of Pittsburgh's coal operators. The principal office is to be in this city. The incorporators hold twenty shares each, the par value of which is $100 each. Ten thousand dollars were subscribed to the capital stock, and $1,000 paid in. The corporation is formed for the same purposes coal companies usually are in this State, but principally for the purpose of towing coal to the lower waters of the Ohio and to points on the Mississippi river.
